We have been in a "no go" mode since yesterday....hoping to start knocking on doors this afternoon.

At the dentist...was just checking emails out of boredom.

Thanks for the update...I hope that things go okay today. Handle your business B-29 :) ...will talk next week.

Happy New Year!

Walt

Hey Walt,

Merry Christmas! Hope you're having a wonderful time with your family!

Very quickly---we deployed the OSCs/CICs today to begin the home well surveying starting tomorrow. Our press protocol in the field is the same as last week. We are still waiting final approval on the fact sheet, Q&A, desk statement and the note to the residents. Trish is out of the office today, so Shawn is OK with having me send the e-mail to the 5 addresses today once we get the green light. I'll send the final fact sheet and Q&A up to the CICs/OSCs later today so they can make copies up there. I can fill you in on details next week....Happy New Year!
